The pages need to be printed before beginning each module. They can be placed in the 3-ring binder or comb bound at Staples. There are two formats: lap book style for those who enjoy that format, or basic notebook style similar to the Apologia journals used with the other texts. THIS DOES NOT REQUIRE COLOR INK. Please check this tool out to see if your student would benefit from its format. It is only $10! Dear Parents: This is the first time I have taught this class, so I am going to order the ABeka Biology lab notebook as an additional tool for the lab portion of the class. I will not require students to buy it at this time, but it may prove very useful for doing the labs. I will offer copies from this book for a nominal copy fee if it will be helpful. I am very excited about this class. I am working on a lab schedule/location that will be reasonable with the distance we all live from each other and the busy schedules we all have. Please let me know if there are days of the week you cannot get together. My best days are Thursday and Friday. Please call me if you have any questions or if you do not want to do the labs, etc. My goal is to be compliant with the most recent MODG syllabus, and to stimulate some excitement for biology with the students. Julie has a list of the students currently signed up for the class if you want to find "lab partners" to purchase equipment with. My children are participating in high school soccer this fall, so our schedule will be very busy and I will have to leave co-op early occasionally. My hope is to work around this, and schedule labs after the season is over. We may have to have an occasional class online during the early fall. Looking forward to working with you this fall, Sincerely, Katie Morton, DVM Katie Morton, DVM	Lab materials: 1) Compound Microscope (National Optical 131) or equivalent scope (okay to share with 1 or 2 other students) (look for used scope/slide sets before buying new) 2) Extension cord 3) Prepared Slide set (okay to share) 4) Slide preparation kit (see apologia website for details) (okay to share) 5) Sturdy box or case to transport scope to school or lab get-togethers 6) Dissection kit (tools and four specimen) (okay to share with 1 or 2 other students) 7) Supplies for a bug collection (exact details to be determined)

The discussion of law in the Summa, and Question 105 regarding the best form of government, provide the final context for the discussion of the issues that occupied our Founding Fathers in the development of our Constitution. Both sides of each issue are studied. The student is required to explain each issue from two points of view and then make a judgment about which is right. This provides practice in persuasive argument, and a good tool for ensuring understanding of the issues. The Federalist &amp; Antifederalist text is excellently done. It isolates the primary arguments surrounding each issue, but there is enough context for the reader to be sure he is getting the whole story. The economics texts are well suited to each other. One (Economics in One Lesson) is a classic consideration of economics, and the other is a concise explanation.
